

FAQ About the Activity Fee

Why do I need to pay the activity fee in advance?

Many times, we are able to get package deals and discount rates on things by paying in advance for a large group. This enables us to do more things for the money! Also, it is very risky to have so much cash flowing in and out of hands every day if cash is brought in for each activity. Paying ahead of time allows for more budgeting and less risk of money loss.

If my child does not attend a field trip, will I be reimbursed?

The activity fee covers all fees for the entire summer for all summer campers. Many times, we have paid in advance, and do not know until a day or week before, after we have paid, that your child is not going to attend and we cannot get our fees back.

What do you do with extra money that you accumulate from children not attending certain activities?

Any money left over at the end of the summer is put into parties and additional field trips for the children. All money is put towards your child's summer enjoyment.

For those that have not attended a summer camp with us in the past, most weeks the children go on field trips four out of five days. One day is for the park, swimming, library and two field trips that are either outdoor enjoyment or that go with the week's theme. Also, performers visit the school and the supplies are purchased with the activity fees. With all of this considered, over a course of the ten week summer camp program, you are paying an additional $13.64 for crafts and four field trips and/or performances.
